

ENJOYING Work

3) So we tested out some ideas. Star of the Month and working from home were great successes. Trying to get everyone talking about their needs and creating admin role packs were great failures!

4) In our 3month QI project, our staff reporting having had a good day went from 75% to 100%.

5) We created a robust implementation and quality control plan to sustain the gains we'd made, and had the opportunity to teach this back to the Enjoying Work community.

2) We ran a Shaping Our Future workshop with QI Department and agreed we wanted flexible working, more social connection and recognition in our role.

1) At the start of the Covid outbreak, Forensics admin needed to make drastic changes to their working patterns to minimise travel and the spread of infection. We didn't have the equipment or access to work from home, and many of our colleagues had to provide childcare when schools closed.

6) "It feels different now. We're happier and we talk about what we want at work."
